As is generally known, the Natatorium was fed by a pipe line from a hot spring lo-cated near Beck's. cated near Beck's.

For a time the pipe lins did its work and the managers took in $2,000 a month. The expense being kept within $1,000 they marked up a like sum to their credit and

They claim that David James & Co. took the contract for laving a pipe line that would stand the corroding influence of the Hotsprings water. The pipe inid was of the Horton pattern, seven inches in diameter, fastened at the joints by iron couplings and strengthened by wrapping the same by bands of iron. They also state that the joints were to be tarred to prevent the water getting at the iron couplings, and that the outside was also to be treated to a coat of naphaltmu to prevent the outside iron bands corroding.
